Book Launch for Young Lives on the Line: You Can Make a Difference

Mississauga, Ontario - March 24, 2014 - Be one of the first to dispel the myth that “bad children and youth are involved with the youth justice system.”

Author Norma Nicholson is launching her new book Young Lives on the Line: You Can Make a Difference.

Date and time: Friday March 28, 2014; 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Location: Mississauga Burnhamthorpe Library, 3650 Dixie Road, Mississauga, Ontario.

Norma Nicholson, once an at-risk child and youth herself, has written this book as a tool for school teams, counsellors, parents, police services, and community organizations to help keep our at-risk children and youth out of the youth justice system. Through her own story and the stories of six other children and youth, Norma Nicholson brings a new perspective to the problems and negative behaviour seen in our troubled young people today. She shows you why these problems occur, helps you to examine the root causes, and gives you the tools you need to make a difference.

“Young Lives on the Line will inspire more hope and goodness in the world.”
